WAPPLER THERACLAMP

The following supersedes the L-Clamps listed on Page 16 of Bulletin No. 701, Issue of September, 1923.

The Theraclamp, as its name implies, is a device to aid the physician and technician in diathermy treatments. Wappler Theraclamps are designed for universal use. The Clamp may be fitted with two electrodes of equal or different sizes. They may be arranged so that both are of the same polarity or may be insulated from each other.

The former method, in which both are of the same polarity, is particularly adapted for applying electrodes to any part of the arms or
